Ingleside Bakery & Gourmet Foods is a family-owned bakery nestled in the heart of Upper Canada. We provide catering for special events and weddings (including custom cakes), create elegant gift baskets, offer regular or specialty coffee, fresh breads, daily lunch specials like homemade soups and sandwiches, as well as gourmet donuts and desserts.

WE SERVE ICE CREAM!
Kawartha Lakes &
London Ice Cream
(from April - Sept)

Open-hearted, wild, and free.
That's home for us.

You're always welcome here, you know.

You won't find carbon copy experiences or mega resorts, or anything that turns you into a dot in the crowd. Nope, not here. What we have to offer is unspoiled and pure. You'll understand if you come.

What'll get you is the smell of the freshly shucked corn, the way the tractors carve patterns in the fields, and the slick of sunshine across the boat deck. What else? The sweet bite of the season's first strawberry, the sound of the swooping herons, and the starry night peeping over you around the campfire.

Just to be clear, it's not all quiet here though. We love to cheer for the intense crash at the county fair demolition derby, the army of bagpipers and drummers blowing and banging their instruments at the Highland Games, and all the musicians rocking the vineyard or the old toothbrush factory.

Have a taste, have a look, have a listen.
You'll like it here.

THE Historical TWOFER

The past informs the present in Long Sault.

On Inundation Day, April 1, 1958, 12 communities were permanently submerged to make way for the St. Lawrence Seaway and Moses-Saunders Dam projects. About 6,500 residents from Mille Roches, Moulinette, Sheek, Wales, Dickinson's Landing, Farran's Point, Aultsville, Morrisburg, Iroquois, and the three smaller hamlets of Santa Cruz, Woodland, and Maple Grove had their lives uprooted.

Two local institutions keep their memories alive.

The Lost Villages Museum

commemorates these vibrant villages and hamlets and those who lived there. There are ten fully restored heritage buildings from the original villages brought together in a village-like setting in Ault Park. Every year, hundreds and hundreds of visitors—locals, history buffs, divers, and paddlers—stop by to explore the museum and its archives.

Lost Villages Brewery, a

four-minute drive from the museum, opened in the fall of 2022 to great fanfare. The owners were inspired to pay tribute to the villages and to keep history alive. Each one of their craft beers like the Woodland Red Ale or Mille Roches IPA—offered on tap and in cans—is named after the original villages or local assets. Stop by their taproom, patio, and retail store to learn more.

Peek AT THE Past

Find out where history and heritage come to life.

SDG Historic Tour, throughout SDG. Local history and art merge to recount the yesteryear of our region. The 18 plaques—three in each local municipality—include stories of the McIntosh Apple, the Glengarry Highland Games, and even the Peanut Line.

Glengarry Pioneer Museum, Dunvegan.

The 10 log and timber frame buildings on the museum grounds are not only repositories for artifacts, and records of early pioneers of the area. They're tangible links to the past, too!

Upper Canada Village, Morrisburg.

One of the largest living history sites in the country, the village operates as it would have in 1866. Wander the authentic buildings and grounds, and learn from the working tradespeople, farmers, millworkers, and businesspeople.

The museum is unique as it has been restored to show an 1812-era kitchen, with an open hearth cookery vessel and a beautiful Beehive Oven. As a member of the Culinary Historians of Canada, I plan to focus on this era of culinary history!"
